

Essence

At InterComm Group, we believe human capital is the most essential component for success in any venture.

Through consulting, coaching, and extraordinary communication, we impact people by delivering focus, maximizing performance and optimizing results.

Founder Terry Seitz brings 35 years of experience in communication and application of extraordinary leadership, team and performance programs. He is a partner in a global teambuilding company and his spirit is expressed through messages filled with real life examples of leadership and excellence woven in a storytelling style.
